PROJECT

We live in a world of Miracles
Stop, Look, and Wonder

ART • INFORMATION • ACTION

LIVING TREASURES IS A MULTIMEDIA PROJECT CELEBRATING THE BEAUTY AND DIVERSITY OF THE NATURAL WORLD.

The Living Treasures Project, featuring the art I've produced, spotlights the wonder of our surroundings and the delicate balance we maintain between the wild and civilized worlds.

My goal is to inspire children and adults alike to look at life in a fresh way, to recognize our interdependence, and to get involved in protecting our fragile environment and its creatures.

THE VISION

The Living Treasures Project, harnesses Art, Technology, and Staging to present a colorful, vibrant experience that celebrates the miracle of nature and its inhabitants. My goal is to inspire viewers with stunning visuals, provoke curiosity, and motivate viewers to care about our natural world.

Employing information graphics, it identifies the challenges we face in protecting living species and the environment with its rich diversity.

Using the Internet, it features an Online Center at LivingTreasures.biz to provide connections and links for the many groups dedicated to protecting wildlife and their habitats.

Investigating the most current studies on energy and environmental research The Living Treasures Project is creating a short form outline to help create an action plan in order to focus our energies, get involved, and make a difference.

AT THE HEART OF THE PROJECT is an alphabet of animals who share their planet with us. The alphabet is available as a collection of cards and graphics that celebrates the beauty and nobility of all living creatures.

The series includes information about the animals along with referrals to organizations committed to their survival. These may be purchased in a number of different formats and products. A percentage of the proceeds from sales is donated to selected wildlife organizations.

THE SNOW LEOPARD PHILOSOPHY

The Snow Leopard is one the most magnificent of all living creatures, surviving in some of the harshest conditions on earth. It stands as a symbol of the struggle that all endangered and at risk species face.

Humanity, with its genius for adaptation and innovation, has created an extraordinary culture harnessing technology to serve its needs with great efficiency. But we have treated the natural world as a force to dominate and exploit.

This drive for progress has come at a cost.

We are now paying the price.

The earth is pushing back.

We must to return to a balance. We need to acknowledge a common heritage with our animal friends in order to bring our lives into harmony with nature.

The more we see through their point of view, the more we will perceive life as a whole and not through our fragmented and self-oriented lens. Then we can find solutions to the environmental crisis we face today.

THE EXHIBITS are based on a versatile modular design. The core of the exhibit is a collection of art and graphics that can be presented in a gallery space. Scaling up, using a structure of interlocking panels, it becomes a stand-alone display that features art and background information about the animals and their environment.
